The annual session of the Methodist Conference held at Salem, Mo., closed its labors last Saturday. Rev. J. G. Wilson was appointed Presiding Elder for this circuit, and Rev. J. J. Watts will officiate at Arcadia and Potosi. Rev. C. O. Jones goes to the Charleston C rcuit, and Rev. J. R. Hicks to the Washington Circuit.

At the Farmington Fair, on Thursday, several persons clubbed together and bought a dozen toy balloons, and, securely tying them together, let them go. We looked at them until they were out of sight, and thought we had heard the last of them. But last S turday's mail brought us a letter from Bro. Richardson, now taking pictures in Monroe county, Illinois, stating that a bunch of collapsed balloons had been picked up there. Aslip attached to the balloons contained the words: "Sent up from the Fair Grounds at Farmington, Mo., Sept. 17, 1880," and the names of the senders. Monroe Co. is about fifty miles from Farmington.

IRONTON, Mo., Sept. 21st, 1880.

Ed. Register-Will you kindly permit me, through your the columns of your paper, in behalf of the members of the M. E. Church of Ironton, Mo., to tender sincere thanks to the "Busy Bees" of this place for their kindly interest and earnest efforts in our behalf in our effort to pay off an indebtedness on our parsonage property at this place; also to the many kind friends who so liberally patronized the fair and festival. given for the purpose of liquidating the debt.

Within the last six months, the church, aided by friends, has been enabled to reduce the debt from $262 to about $100.

We shall endeavor, as a church, to deserve the good will of the generous public.

Pastor.

Presbytery of St. Louis.

This Presbytery met in the First Church of ronton at 7:30 o'clock P. M., Sept. 21st, 1880. Opened by a sermon by Rev. David C. Marquis, D.D., from Rom. 8: 1-"There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the spirit."

The speaker treated this subject in a masterly manner under the following heads-I. Relation;

Rev. Sam'l J. Niccols, D. D., preached Wednesday evening on the "Mission of Fire," from Luke 12: 49-"I am come to send fire or the earth, and what will I' if it be already kindled." The Doctor was in his usual happy mood, and held his audience for an hour, litening to his vivid and graphic description of fire-as it consumed natural objectscities, ancient and modern. But the fire Christ kindles burns and spreads over the whole earth. Fire is the chosen emblem of Jehovah. He appeared to Moses in the burning bush. Fire was His symbol in the Holy place. Cloven tongues of fire rested on the day of pentecost. It is a symbol of beauty; then of power; then of life and joy; then of the fierceness of God's displeasure-"Beware lest mine anger be kindled against you." Fire testifies to the power of Grace; it represents life and heat. Death is cold and frezen. Fire transforms men's hearts; new affections are given them. As metals are fused, and vessels for use. There is a cold, frosty selfishness in the world-it is cruel-full of hate and strife; but let divine fire touch it and see how it purifies the hearts of men! Sanctification is a purifying process. Christ came to malady of souls," said a French writer-hence

"Come, Holy Spirit, heavenly Dove, With all thy quickening powers, Kindle a flame of sacred love in these cold hearts of ours.

Come, shed abroad a Savior's love, And that shall kindle ours."

We stopped off part of a day and visited the ruins of the United States Armory, also the John Brown Fort: it is here where the first shot was fired that brought about the uncalled for civil war. The breast-works and rifle pits are still visible; and beside the river lays the old Confederate pontoon bridge that we crossed over on that fatal retreat from Gettysburg. There are some sad recollections connected with this retreat; but it is comforting, after passing through all this misfortune, that we cuit court, sell, at public vendue, all the right will have the hero of that day—General W.
